

For Stand Out Packaging—Choose An Outstanding Partner

At Avery Dennison, we understand the function of packaging and its importance in communicating the brand. With over 70 years of brand identification experience and more global locations than any other competitor, Avery Dennison is the logical choice for innovative flexible packaging solutions. We offer production and delivery close to your manufacturing centers and service by highly trained, multilingual professionals. Our innovative solutions can be found in nearly every major merchandising and retailing center of the world, which puts our packaging services right where the business is. In fact, few companies can offer the speed, flexibility and design creativity of Avery Dennison. And here's why:

We Understand Retail

We know how important it is for your products to stand out from the crowd while standing up to the rigors of retail shipping and display. That's why our flexible packaging solutions are designed to both protect and promote. We are equipped with a wide array of innovative materials, hangers, closure options and other attributes that perform for film, paper and cloth packaging. Our flexible packaging solutions allow you to add value to your brand by supplying that extra touch that shows how much you believe in the integrity of your product.

More Options—Choices And Value

Avery Dennison produces flexible packaging solutions for all your product needs. We offer bags, sacks and pouches for every possible presentation, including hangers, zip locks and re-sealable closures as well as snap bags and pouches. Our bags, sacks and pouches are made of materials that ensure ink adhesion, machine-ability, seal-ability and strength.

In addition, we offer a variety of film types, including:

- Polyethylene (PE)
- Polypropylene (PP)
- Polyethylene-terephthalate (PET)
- Polyvinylchloride (PVC)
- Ethylenevinylacetate (EVA)
- Nylon

All these films can be clear, printed and/or laminated, and are available in different thicknesses.

Wide Ranging Support

Our state of the art design and engineering services offer you fast development and production in your supply chain. Well coordinated, global service teams produce unmatched quality, while our manufacturing facilities in China, Thailand, India, El Salvador, the United States, and Israel provide the added convenience of local accessibility. Avery Dennison also has on-site packaging engineers and coordinators to manage each project and provide hands-on assurance that your orders are being produced to your satisfaction.

Sustainable Packaging Options

To meet the needs of environmentally conscious retailers and brand owners, Avery Dennison offers the broadest range of eco-friendly products on the market today. These products have been developed not only to complement sustainable garment collections, but also to fulfill the growing demand for recyclable and biodegradable packaging materials.

Our eco-friendly line includes both reprocessed films of industrial waste as well as biodegradable films for composting. Our biodegradable films leave no toxic residue in the soil during the chemical breakdown process. Until customary disposal, our eco-friendly packaging can be used indefinitely and will not degrade in warehouses, retail store shelves or homes. Our packaging specialists are just a phone call away to offer you the latest advice in this increasingly critical area.
